

Stakeholder Kit

Stillbirth Prevention Awareness and Mental Health Support

Australian Government

About the Project

The Social Policy Group was engaged by the Department of Health and Aged Care to develop resources that aim to increase awareness of stillbirth prevention advice, and improve perinatal access to the Australian healthcare system for women from migrant and refugee backgrounds.

The resources in this document have been co-designed with women from migrant and refugee backgrounds and can be used by individuals, organisations, health workers, settlement service providers and community leaders to help raise awareness of stillbirth prevention and to support women to access information, healthcare and support services.

Conversation Guides

There are two conversation guides that can help support culturally responsive conversations about stillbirth. The first guide is for use by community leaders, and the second is for settlement service providers.

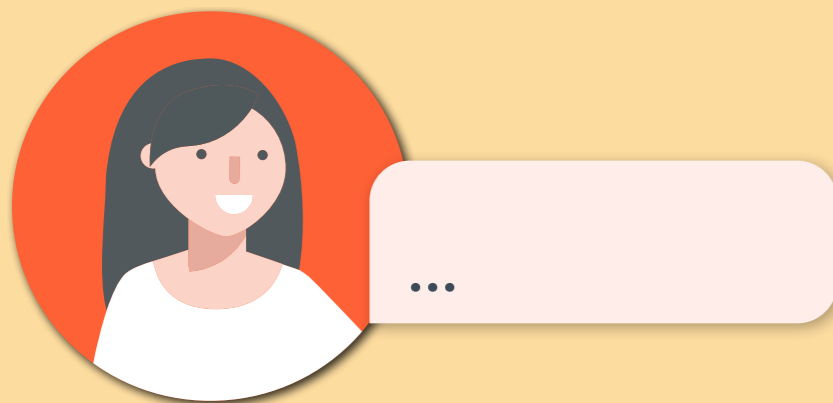

The Conversation Guides address gender specific issues and provide practical guidance to facilitate respectful conversations with women from migrant and refugee backgrounds about stillbirth prevention and to encourage help seeking behaviours.

MyAus App

With tailored content that has been co-designed with migrant and refugee women, the MyAus App provides information on how to have a healthy and safe pregnancy, how to access perinatal health care, and where to go for health and mental health support in Australia.

The MyAus App is free to download from the App Store or Google Play.

Where To Find More Information

The Safer Baby Bundle is an initiative of the Stillbirth Centre of Research Excellence. It covers evidence-based information and addresses key areas where improved practice can reduce the number of stillbirths.

The Social Policy Group has partnered with the Stillbirth Centre of Research Excellence to expand the reach of the Safer Baby Bundle in five new languages.
